

Doctrine Web Site

The USDA Forest Service Fire & Aviation Management has created a Web site for doctrine in fire suppression that will also soon include major sections for doctrine on aviation, fuels management, all hazard, prevention and probably more areas not yet listed.

The Fire Suppression section already includes robust subsections on Genesis and Evolution, Philosophy, Organization, Implementation and Validation. Briefing papers, presentations, source materials, and joint operational doctrine documents are already available and will be added to as this dynamic program evolves.
