

Whether you are a firefighter, fire control operator, or carry out an administrative / managerial role within your fire department, Networking Women in the Fire Service would like to invite you to the

There will be a karaoke on Friday night and disco on Saturday night. There will also be the opportunity to book reflexology, back massage or Indian head massage treatments with a qualified holistic therapist throughout the three days.

The cost for the conference is £375. This includes workshops, food and accommodation for the three days.

A four-day post-conference trip is also being organised. This will include two days of walking or cycling in the beautiful Cotswolds, and a two-day visit to historic Stratford-upon-Avon, Shakespeare's birthplace. Costs for this trip will be kept at a minimum, sharing transport and staying in cheap bed & breakfasts.

This is a fantastic opportunity to meet with your colleagues from the United Kingdom and other countries, share your thoughts and experiences, and learn about the UK fire service, hopefully taking away a better understanding on a particular subject, a new concept that could perhaps be integrated in your fire department and, most importantly, making life-long friends.

If you would like an international booking form for the conference (and post-conference trip) or would like further details, please email Petra Barneveld at petra.barnveld@london-fire.gov.uk or call her on +44 7811 305 185.

See you there!
